Supporting Narrative

Highlights

I am delighted that the SV Workshop went ahead as planned on Saturday 4 March, at The Hub in Eastleigh. There were 9 delegates, all of whom found the workshop extremely useful in acquainting them with the sport and equipping them with skills to deliver grassroots sitting volleyball.

The programme of free taster sessions has exceeded expectations and I have delivered some excellent sessions to very keen students that have been keen to play sitting volleyball. Of particular note was my second visit to Wildern Secondary School, which invited me back to deliver sessions as part of its BBC School Report, and which generated fantastic publicity and awareness of the sport.

Lowlights

None.

Next steps

I will shortly approach Energise Me to discuss the possibility of including sitting volleyball in the Hampshire School Games. The first meeting of the new mini-league season is due to commence on 29 April, at Sejour Leisure Centre in Guernsey where South Hants will be represented.
